

We are proud to announce
our LA CES™ accredited
Continuing Education course

DESIGNING WITH METAL FOR THE HARDSCAPE

Metals are ubiquitous in today's hardscape and are used in a variety of applications. This course will go over the most common materials, their appropriate usage, and the various methods of manufacture. You will also learn more about the process of custom design with the aid of a manufacturer.

Contact your local Iron Age sales representative to schedule a time that works for you. We look forward to visiting your office and sharing this valuable information.
